Principal's Report –

- We have been reviewing our Royalview ROCKS this week in all classrooms.
- We have been focusing on kindness this month. Last week, we had a Kindness week with special dress up days. Next week, classes will work together to do kindness activities.
- We have Jump Rope for Heart going on this week during gym classes. Students are raising money for the American Heart Association.
- The teachers are participating in a training right now for the Writing Revolution to learn new strategies for teaching writing.
- We have school next Friday, February 16th. This was originally scheduled as a PD day but it has been moved to April on the day of the eclipse.
- Our 1st grade concert is coming up at the end of February.
- NAEP (National Assessment Educational Progress) chose Royalview Elementary, at random to have 50- 4th grade students participate in testing. This testing helps drive funding for schools. Students are picked randomly by the organization. Testing will be on March 7th. If your 4th grade student was chosen, you will receive a letter home about this soon.

Teacher Representative Report/ KG, 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, Special Ed., Specials

- Second grade is looking into having the Junior Achievement program come into our classrooms to teach Financial Literacy to our students. They are a community outreach program where businesses give back onto the community by having individuals teach financial literacy to students. It is a volunteer program that teaches workforce readiness. Junior Achievement is looking for Business Volunteers. If anyone knows of businesses that would be interested in this program to complete their community service, they can contact Anthony Eder at Junior Achievement. His email is: aeder@jacleveland.org or by phone at (216) 956-1141
- 4th grade is working on fractions and eco-systems. They are also working on new practices for writing through the Writing Revolution.
